Creativity Starts With the Child — But Often Stops at the Page

Physical creativity

Children draw, color, and imagine. But when the page is finished, the experience usually ends.

CREATE → FINISHED → STOP

Digital entertainment

Engaging, but children often watch, swipe, and consume someone else's content.

Scanvas Builds a Physical-to-Digital Creation Engine for Children

Children aged 3–10 color a printed Scanvas sheet, scan it in the browser, and their own artwork becomes an animated character inside an interactive world with sound, stories, and facts.

Our mission: children do not only consume digital culture — they participate in creating it.

Scanvas does not need to replace these products. The opportunity is to combine a low-friction web experience, child-generated characters, shared worlds, and a reusable content engine.

Indirect competition also includes video and game apps that compete for screen time. Evidence checked Sep 2026 on each product's official site.

Why Choose Scanvas?

The child’s own drawing becomes an interactive character in a shared world — in the browser, with no app to install.

Among the products we compared (Faber-Castell ARt Alive, Quiver, WAGZAK JUMP, teamLab Sketch Aquarium), Scanvas is the only one combining all three.

One Core Engine. Many Interactive Worlds.

New content reuses the same scanning, personalization, and interactive-world pipeline.

1 Computer-Vision Scan

Printed markers guide perspective correction, cropping, and object extraction.

2 Personalized Output

The child’s extracted artwork, not a stock character, enters the world.

3 Code-Linked Physical Content

Each printed sheet links to its template and digital experience.

4 Reusable World Engine

Strategic acquisition or later-stage buyout

PRIMARY

Strategic acquisition

Edtech platforms, children's publishers, stationery and toy brands, or media / IP companies gain a ready engine, a content library, and school distribution.

BRIDGE

Licensing & partnerships

License the engine and worlds to brands and publishers: revenue now, acquirer relationships later.

ALTERNATIVE

Secondary sale

Later-stage investors buy early shareholders out as Scanvas scales across ASEAN.

LONG-TERM

IPO

Only at regional scale; not part of the near-term plan.

What makes Scanvas acquirable: reusable world engine · child-generated content format · institutional distribution · privacy-by-design child data

RESPONSIBLE CHILD DATA

Collect only what is necessary. No child name, parent identity, email, phone, precise location, or artwork itself as analytics payload by default.

VALIDATION PRINCIPLE

Build → Measure → Gate → Expand

Do not build the full course before a 3-lesson pilot validates progression and willingness to pay. Do not build large Mission/Story/AI layers before repeat usage is proven.
