Creativity Starts With the Child, But Often Stops at the Page

PHYSICAL CREATIVITY ENDS

Children draw, color, and imagine, but once the page is finished, the experience often ends.

DIGITAL EXPERIENCES ARE OFTEN PASSIVE

Many digital activities give children ready-made characters to watch, swipe, and consume.

LEARNING AND CREATING STAY SEPARATE

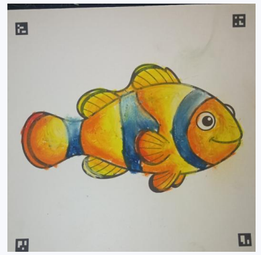

Animals, nature, and other topics are often learned through worksheets or content created by someone else.

What if the child's own creation became the starting point of play and learning?

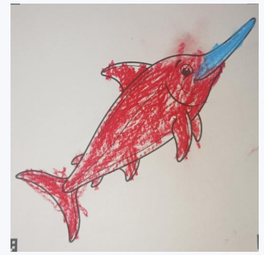

Tested with 30 children in our first real-world TPA pilot in D.I. Yogyakarta.

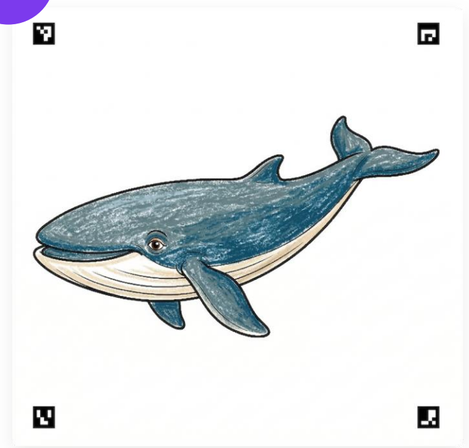

From our pilot at a TPA in D.I. Yogyakarta

Their Artwork Becomes the Character

COLOR

Create on a printed Scanvas sheet.

SCAN

Photograph or upload the artwork in the browser.

COME ALIVE

The child's own artwork is extracted and animated.

EXPLORE & LEARN

It enters an interactive world with movement, sound, stories, and facts.

The child creates first. Technology extends what they created.

A Proven Category, With a Different Access Model

Paper-to-digital coloring already has established alternatives, including:

Faber-Castell ARt Alive	Mobile app
Quiver	Mobile app
WAGZAK JUMP	Mobile app
teamLab Sketch Aquarium	Venue-based

SCANVAS COMBINES

- ✓ Child-generated artwork as the character
- ✓ Browser-based: no app installation
- ✓ Shared interactive worlds
- ✓ Reusable engine for new themes
- ✓ Designed toward repeat institutional use

Competitors validate the category. Our question is whether this combination creates paid, repeat use.

What We Want to Validate Through ITEC

1 Institutional pilot partners

Schools and activity organizers for paid, repeatable sessions.

2 Content & localization partners

Children's content creators and cultural partners for localized worlds.

3 A small partner-led Chaoyang pilot

LOCAL PARTNER

Select one institution or activity partner

LOCALIZE

Mandarin interface + one adapted Scanvas theme

PILOT

Proposed small session with 20–30 children

MEASURE & DECIDE

Completion · partner feedback · willingness to repeat or pay · localization effort

RESOURCES

- ✓ Scanvas product and founder lead
- ✓ Local partner / translator
- ✓ Localized print templates
- ✓ Adapted digital content

FUNDING PRINCIPLE

Initial localization is a validation experiment funded from the go-to-market and content budget. We do not commit to a broader China rollout until the pilot shows demand.

Validate locally. Adapt with a partner. Expand only with evidence.

Scanvas does not need to replace these products. The opportunity is to combine a low-friction web experience, child-generated characters, shared worlds, and a reusable content engine.

Indirect competition also includes video and game apps that compete for screen time. Evidence checked Sep 2026 on each product's official site.

RESPONSIBLE CHILD DATA

Collect only what is necessary. No child name, parent identity, email, phone, precise location, or artwork itself as analytics payload by default.

VALIDATION PRINCIPLE

Build → Measure → Gate → Expand

Do not build the full course before a 3-lesson pilot validates progression and willingness to pay. Do not build large Mission/Story/AI layers before repeat usage is proven.

- ✓ With Rp200M, cash at month 12 stays positive in both cases.
- ✓ Remaining cash covers inventory (production budget), contingency, and runway into year 2.

- Session Rp1M, up to 30 children; direct cost Rp250K
- Volume: 25–50 packs and 2–4 sessions per month

Chaoyang Pilot: Validation Before Expansion

OBJECTIVE

Test whether Scanvas can transfer to a new language and cultural context through a local partner.

SCOPE

- ✓ One partner
- ✓ One localized theme
- ✓ Mandarin adaptation
- ✓ Small child session
- ✓ No permanent China operation

MEASURE

- → Activation / completion
- → Scan success
- → Children’s engagement
- → Partner willingness to repeat
- → Parent / institution willingness to pay
- → Localization cost and effort

GO / NO-GO GATE

Scale only if demand, repeat intent, and localization economics justify the next pilot.
